Keynote Speakers

Most Reverend Joseph E. Kurtz, D.D.

His Holiness Benedict XVI appointed Most Reverend Joseph E. Kurtz, D.D., as the Bishop of the Archdiocese of Louisville on June 12, 2007 and installed on August 15, 2007. Before coming to Louisville, Archbishop Kurtz served as Bishop of Knoxville from 1999 to 2007. Born on August 18, 1946 in Mahanoy City, Pennsylvania, Archbishop Joseph E. Kurtz earned a bachelor (1968) and master of divinity (1972) degrees from St. Charles Borromeo Seminary in Philadelphia and a master's degree in social work from Maryland School of Social Work in Scranton, Pennsylvania, in 1976.

Deacon Greg Hall

On October 13, Greg Hall's prayers were answered. For more than two months of sleepless nights, the rock-drilling expert and deacon-in-training had been working to save the Chilean miners trapped in the San Jose Mine. Greg Hall co-owns with his wife, Angelica, the drilling company that has operated a Chilean branch for almost two decades, manufacturing parts for drilling hundreds of thousands of feet underground. When the Capiapó mine collapsed on August 5, Hall's company was called to try to find and free the miners. Come and hear Greg speak on Learning and Living his faith, believing in Jesus Christ and how his company helped to free with divine intervention the 33 trapped miners from deep underground. He will speak about The Difference that Jesus Made in completing what was seen as a catastrophic task in trying to free these men.

Our Purpose

In conversing with men across the Archdiocese, it became apparent that men are looking for ways to:

- Be more deeply involved in their faith and their parish communities.
- Engage more fully in service, evangelization, and networking with others.
- Deepen their relationship with Jesus Christ.
- Share their faith with other men.

Seeking such questions as:

- What should Catholic men do and be in today's world?
- How can men strengthen their family life, work life, and faith life?
- How can they become better fathers, husbands and leaders?

Therefore, it is our hope, that this Catholic Men's Conference, Learning & Living Our Faith will provide an opportunity to respond to these important needs and questions.
